We would advise all who have York, Philadelphia, or Baltimore, and from New Orleans to San Francisco, by the most expeditious practicable route; the service to be performed semi-monthly, and at such times, as, in connexion with other mail service, as at present, will secure as near as practicable, a weekly mail, each way, between the points de signated; the entire cost of such service not to exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars per annum.]

The consideration of the ten million appropriation bill was then resumed.

Mr. Jones withdraw his induction to street out the enacting clause.

Mr. Houston addressed the House, first causing to be read by the Clerk, a resolution adopted by Congress in 1796, as expressive of his views on the duty of the House. He responded to the remarks of Messrs. Benton, Haven and Peckham, relative to the absence of documents, and alleged that they had not made a call for such information when they could have done so.

Mr. Haven replied, that when the bill was brought up, Mr. Houston, by his own motion, made a call for correspondence impossible.

Mr. Houston proceeded at length, refusing to yield the floor to the opponents of the pending measure.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatiy-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to assertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

THE CONFLICT OF AGES!

BY DR. EDWARD BRECHER. This Remarkable Work has reached its Fifth Edition, in the brief space of Four Months! A success unprecedented in Theological Publications!

A States's tempretainted in Tacological Tacolications!

A N impression has already been produced by this masterly treatise, the most profound, wide reaching, and permanent.

It is perfectly manifest to all competent observers, that we are upon the eve of a theological discussion, the most comprehensive, radical, and portentous, the world has over seen. To this discussion this book leads the way, with a momentum irresistible. There is not a question in Theology which is not destined to come up for a new and thorough settlement in the light of this final development.

All those who have Theological doubts and difficulties should examine the solution this work affords. Those who have no doubts, but who wish to study the history of opinions in the past, and to keep pace with the developments of opinion in the future, will grievously err if they neglect to make themselves familiar with this book. It contains the seeds of the thinkings and debatings of the next hundred years.

The reception of this work by the Theological press of the country, has been significant. Equally declining to accept his conclusion, they do it on opposite and contradictory grounds. One half of the Theological press endorses the major premise of the argument and denies the minor. The other half on Theological press endorses the major premise of the argument, and denies the minor. The other half endorses the minor, and denies the major. And as they are probably both right in their positive element, and wrong in their negative, the work has received a Vir-tual Endorsement of the most powerful kind.

As regards the ability of the work, and its claims on the attention of all, the following extracts may sume:

From the Princeton Repertory—Old School Orthodox.

It is characterized by great ability, by an earnest spirit, by frankness, candor, and courtesy. It has a special interest for us. WE HAIL IT AS AN ALLY. The author shuts his readers up to the choice between Orthodoxy and the doctrine of Pre-Existence.

From the Universalist Quarterly and General Review, Jan., 1854. We have the novel specificle of a man clinging with a masterly grasp to all the fundamentals of Orthodoxy, * * * yet dealing it a blow beneath ild be difficult to find within the limits of a hundred pages any treatise or essay that can com-pare in importance with this analysis (B. iv) of Or-thodox doctrines. Dr. Beecher has struck upon the right principle in his theory of typical interpretation, in the fifth of Romans.

National Bra. This work has caused a great commotion among the D D's in our land. It merits their attention. N. Y. Tribune.

The most significant work on Theology which has In most signmeant work on Theology which has appeared of late.

In many respects, this volume is one of the most curions, as well as one of the most suggestive, productions of modern American Theology. Philadelphia Presbyterian Quarterly, New School.

Westminster Review, England. The "Conflict of Ages" is, in effect, a protest against Calvinism by one of the leading Calvinistic divines of New England Boston Congregation

It is a story and yet a sermon Taking the little Vara by the hand, and leading her through the corridors of an eventful life, it leaves upon the mind a genial and lasting impression, which will prove of service. We hope to see it circulated widely.—Buffalo Express.

We predict for it an immense sale, and venture to we predict for it an immense sale, and venture to announce the author as a worthy addition to the few distinguished American authors. As a work of art, we place it high. Independently of any aim of plot, the language is both chaste and ornate, frequently pathetic, often humorous. The characters are drawn with great skill, and we can find originals in our mind, who seem to be here carefully pictured—Newark Daily.

We abound in magazines and newspapers, suited to the wants and tastes of all classes, yet the thirst for mental recreation and intelligence, which is one of the characteristi s of our people, encourages us in the belief that another well-conducted publication will be amply sustained.

Competition, which has even called "the life of trade," is now such in the periodical line, that, by the ordinary mode; it is a hazardous undertaking to the publisher to attempt, even with a large capital, to establish a magazine or paper. Not unfiequently, thousands of dollars are expended before it is made to yield a profit; and it has become a settled principle, that subscribers must be paid for, in one way or another. Periodicals are remunerative only whose they have a large circulation, and Premiums are commonly given to increase subscription lists.

We design to farnish a handsomely-printed, hightoned, witty, entertaining, and instructive Quarto, (a suitable form for binding,) which in one year will comprise a large amount of useful information, and as a reflex of the times and a record of current events will be found worthy of preservation. Eastman's infallible nick fleadache Kemedy THIS preparation, by E. P. EASTMAN, M. D., of Lynn, Mass., has been used in private practice for the last four years, with the greatest success. A radical cure has been effected in every instance where the directions have been strictly followed and persevered in. It is now given to the public with the full confidence that it will do all that is claimed for it, and prove itself, upon fair trial, an infallible Sick Heudache Kemedy.

DEAR SIR: A member of my family—a daughter, ten years of age—was afflicted with the sick headache, and we tried various remedies without success. When, however, you administered to her your "Headache Powders," we found them to be very boneficial, and, in fact, restored her to health

I should, without hesitation, recommend them to those afflicted; and I beg to assure you, that I fully appreciate their value.

Respectfully yours, D. C. BAKER. Lynn, August 6, 1853

Dr. E. P. Eastman.

My Drak Sir: I avail myself of this opportunity to express to you my high appreciation of the efficiency and value of your Sick Headache Remedy. I have been afflicted, since my childhood, with very severe turns of sick headache, and have tried various remedies which have been prescribed, but found no considerable relief until I tried your remedy, which, I am happy to say, has almost entirely cared me. Several of my neighbors and friends have tried your medicine, and in every instance it has entirely relieved or greatly mollified the disease.

Faithfully yours.

ONE PRICE ONLY. We are now in our NEW O STORE, which was creeted expressly for us. We think it the most comfortable and best lighted store-room in the city; and with increased room, facilities, and experience, deemed quite ample, we shall deal FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS, of every style, all of the best qualities, and for which we shall have one price only.

We shall sell cheaper than we over have done; and in having one price only (which, in our opinion, is the only fair and equitable way of doing business) we shall maintain our self-respect, which is above all price or success. Moreover, we expect to retain all the trade of those prompt customers who have made their purchases of us for some years past, and doubtless we shall have a large accession of new customers, who prefer to buy where one fair price only is asked.

We feel that our simple word is requisite only to satisfy our former customers that the one price syssatisfy our former customers that the one price system is the correct one, and to their advantage; and we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid and intelligent persons will, after an impartial examination of prices, fabric, and styles, give a one price store the preference. Those who are not judges of goods cannot fail to be impressed at once with the manifold and wast advantages to the purchaser renanifold and vast advantages to the purchaser resulting from the adoption in good faith of the one price system; it necessarily insures low prices to the purchaser for it becomes absolutely necessary to meet at the start all competition that can be offered in

Our scale of prices will be so low, and the profits s small, that we cannot and will not sell but for the cash or to customers who pay promptly. For those who purchase very largely, or to sell again, reductions will be made.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1, 1853

DEAR SIR: For the past two years I have been severely afflicted with Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, and Piles, suffering constantly the pains and inconveniences attendant upon such complaints, without energy, being scarcely able to attend to any business. I used a great deal of medicine, without any apparent change until I used your "Hoofland's German Bitters." They have entirely cured me. I am now entirely free from pain and ache of any kind, and feel like a new man in every respect, and unhesitatingly recommend your Bitters to all invalids.

"Wisdom shall bore down to it, and the great of the earth shall kneel before it."

NEVER could this be said with more truth, than it now applies to this remarks.

it now applies to this remedy for affections of the throat and lungs. The exalted in learning and power acknowledge its supremacy, while both the little and the great can feel its benefits. The liberalminded among those skilled to cure, are free to own its mastery over distempers which have baffled their art. Those of exalted stations are not ashamed t testify to its virtues, but deem it a duty and a pleasure to thus hold out the lamp of their experience to their suffering fellow men.
